

Tim Adams

Employment: Currently Managing Director at the The Lindsey Group, a boutique global macroeconomic and financial markets advisory firm. Served at the Treasury Department from 2001 until 2007, including three years as Under Secretary for International Affairs.

Hobbies: Reading; Running (three time finisher of the Marine Corps Marathon, including last October); Travel (I have visited close to 70 countries); hiking; University of Kentucky basketball fan.

St. Paul's Experience: I have been attending St. Paul's regularly for fifteen years. I was baptized at St Paul's, Jennifer and I did our pre-marital counseling here, two of our three children were baptized here, all three of our children have and/or are currently attending St. Paul's Day School, I have served as a Marshall for several St Paul's events, completed the Inquirer's class, Jennifer and I were baptismal counselors, I regularly attend the Adult Forum and attended Shrine Mont last September.

I Care About St. Paul's Because: St. Paul's is my personal and my family's spiritual community and an integral part of our daily lives. I seek to build on St. Paul's current strong foundation so that the church continues to be a vibrant, nurturing Christian community as well as remain an important voice in Alexandria, the Virginia Diocese and the broader Episcopalian church.

David C. Brown

Employment: I have worked for Exelon Corporation, a public utility holding company headquartered in Chicago, for the last 20 years.

Hobbies: Spending time with my family; travel; reading; ACC basketball and Caps Hockey.

St. Paul's Experience: I came to St. Paul's when I first moved to the Washington area in 1987. My wife and I were married at St. Paul's, and our son Harry attended the Day School. I served on the Day School board of directors, and we served as ushers for the Family Service during 2007-2008. I have been a member of the St. Paul's Foundation Board since 2009; and served as a canvasser during this past fall's Every Member Canvass Campaign. For the past two years, I have served as a Lay Delegate to the Diocese of Virginia's Annual Council.

I Care About St. Paul's Because: Nothing is as comforting, powerful, and empowering as the Peace of the Lord. For over 200 years, St. Paul's work has served as a constant reminder of that power and has allowed us to "shine as a light" to Alexandrians. I would be honored to help continue that mission.

John P. Elwood

(Appointed to fill the second of a three-year unexpired term. Eligible for re-election)

Employment: I am a lawyer. After serving in the Justice Department for about eight years, I became a partner in the DC office of the law firm of Vinson & Elkins.

Hobbies: playing guitar; live music; antique maps; whatever hobbies my children happen to have at the moment.

St. Paul's Experience: St. Paul's has been a cornerstone of my family's life for the past eight years. St. Paul's has provided us with religious education, spiritual support, and a community of dear friends. I have sought to give back to the church by serving since November 2009 as an appointed member of the vestry; and before that, serving as a counselor with St. Paul's Squad; as a baptismal counselor; as a host for Sunday school; hosting a welcome coffee for new church members; and serving as a marshal and verger during church services. I also have participated in various service projects, working on renovations with Rebuilding Together Alexandria, preparing and serving food at Carpenter's Shelter, and miscellaneous projects, such as making repairs to church property. My kids (who have helped me in shopping for angel tree, preparing snacks for Sunday school and choir, and fixing wobbly pew doors in the sanctuary) attend Sunday school weekly, attend vacation bible school every summer, and have held birthday parties here; the whole family looks forward to First Friday every month and the annual visit to Shrine Mont

I Care About St. Paul's Because: St. Paul's cares for "all of God's children." I came to the church as a non-observant Presbyterian; St. Paul's received me not as a stranger, but immediately welcomed me into the fellowship and work of the congregation. The church's outreach only begins with visitors and newcomers; it extends to people in our community, state, and around the world.

Diana Tabler Forbes

Employment: Professional Staff Member, Committee on Armed Forces, U.S. Senate, Washington D.C.

Hobbies: Needlepoint, cooking, sports, and music

St. Paul's Experience: I have worshipped at St. Paul's since 1994. My son Jonathan was baptized in 1995. My daughter Meredith was confirmed in 2003. I served on a committee to support our seminarian Gates Elliot in 2008-2009.

I Care About St. Paul's Because: St. Paul's is a wonderful place to worship and to grow in understanding of faith. St. Paul's is a community that welcomes everyone. St. Paul's values the ministry of music, challenges us to do good in the world, and has nourished my family through faith for more than 15 years.

John Keppler

Employment: Chief Executive Officer, Intrenergy, Inc (2004-Present); AOL/Time Warner (2001-2004).

Hobbies: I am an avid sailor and enjoy competing in triathlons as well as road and cycling races. My wife and I enjoy frequent travel with the kids. One of my passions is cooking, and I enjoy participating in all aspects of my children's lives.

St. Paul's experience: My wife and I have been attending St. Paul's since we first lived in Old Town in 1993. We have attended the Enquirer's class and were confirmed into the Episcopal Church at St. Paul's. I have been a lay reader and, for the past several years, have served as a consistent Chalice Bearer. Throughout my adult life, St. Paul's has been the cornerstone of my faith. The parish, clergy, and community of our Church helped me survive cancer and a bone-marrow transplant, provided the spiritual foundation for our marriage, saw the birth and baptism of our children, and offers us a constant roadmap for the intellectual and spiritual connection to God in our daily lives.

I Care About St. Paul's Because: I was humbled by the call to stand for the Vestry. I hope to make a personal commitment to St. Paul's commensurate with the reward it provides – and if possible to help St. Paul's lay the spiritual and financial foundation for service to our parish and community in its next 200 years.

I Care About St. Paul's Because: In February we are anticipating the arrival of our first three grandchildren. When we talk about what we wish for those new families, we hope and pray that they will find a Church home like St. Paul's...a loving community of faith that opens its arms to them, shares their joys and their tears; where their faith will be nourished and they will be challenged to serve the needs of others. St. Paul's IS such a place and THAT is why I care about St. Paul's.

After serving in the Airforce, I was the Director of Analysis for Europe under the United States Department of State. I Care About St. Paul’s Because: St. Paul’s is my spiritual home, a community of loving and giving friends, and the source of my call to serve. With the experience I have, I believe I can provide a leaven in Vestry decision making and a useful sounding board for the Rector and clergy as we, as a parish seek to realize our strategic plans and vision – to shine as a light in the world to the glory of God.

James T. (Jim) Norman

Employment: 1992-Present Norcom Consulting, Inc., Alexandria; 1965-1992 IBM Corporation, Winston-Salem, Raleigh, Atlanta and Washington DC.

Hobbies: Hobbies occupy the fun time in life. The most fun is spent with the extended family and grandchildren. I am delighted by their youthful excitement. The fun that I get from a puzzle creates a very different “hobby.” The challenge of the “personal” computer originally started as a hobby and became an extension to my profession. The solving of this puzzle clearly qualifies as a hobby.

St. Paul’s Experience: Joining the St. Paul’s family twenty years ago when Caroline Hooff Bierman and I got married was one of the best decisions I have ever made. I became a Lector for the early service, have been involved in the “Green Team” and “Job Squad” since they were started.

I collected many church-experiences prior to coming to Alexandria twenty-five years ago. In Atlanta, Raleigh, Winston-Salem and Charlotte, being active in the church allowed giving of time and talent. This included tours on Sessions and Diaconates in Presbyterian and Baptist churches, Sunday school and youth group teacher and other activities.

I Care About St. Paul’s Because it functions like a family both in celebration and in consolation. The St. Paul’s family cares about the extended parish and is very well run by experienced and dedicated stewards. From my perspective, good stewards bring both resources and experience. I would like to my 46 years of business management and staff experience to St. Paul’s.

C. J. Reid

Employment: American Association of School Administrators, Arlington, VA (1996 – present) American Pharmaceutical Association, Washington, DC (1987 – 1996) National Association of Elementary School Principals, Alexandria, VA (1982 – 1987) National Association of Elementary School Principals, Alexandria, VA (1982 – 1987); National School Volunteer Program, Inc., Alexandria, VA (1980 – 1982); Alexandria City Schools, Alexandria, VA (1965 – 1980) (Robert E. Lee Elementary School, Parker-Gray Middle School, Francis C. Hammond Junior High School and T. C. Williams High School)

Hobbies: Gardening, cooking, reading, technology, traveling, needlepoint (particularly Christmas stockings) and enjoying family and friends

St. Paul's Experience: Since joining St. Paul's in the late 1960's, I have had the pleasure of participating in a number of activities, including (in no particular order): Sunday school teacher, choir member, member of several Lay Committees, member and register of the vestry, member of the search committee, organized first cemetery clean-up day, usher, chalice bearer and been a member on numerous other committees.

I Care About St. Paul's Because St. Paul's has been a constant source of strength in my life and an anchor for the Reid family during times of celebration and sorrow. Having the opportunity to serve as a member of the vestry would allow me to give back to this wonderful, caring faith community.

C. Meade Rhoads

Employment: Meade is the owner and sole employee of Madison Ventures, LLC, a Northern Virginia commercial real estate company providing development, investment sales and leasing services. Since 2003, Meade has bought, sold, leased, developed, or financed approximately $173 million of commercial real estate. Prior to 2003, Meade developed multifamily apartment properties where he participated with various levels of responsibility in the development of approximately $185 million of real estate. Prior to that, Meade worked at a Real Estate Investment Trust where his primary responsibilities included improving the financial performance of existing portfolio properties on an individual and collective basis.

Hobbies: Just about anything in the great outdoors – Running – Fishing – Boating...

St. Paul's Experience: Meade and Janie have been members of St. Paul's since 2007 and their devotion to the church was fixed shortly thereafter. After becoming members of the church, the staff and congregation provided an unbelievable level of support though the untimely death of Janie's mother during an extraordinarily difficult pregnancy involving 3-months of bed rest and hospitalization followed by the premature birth of their son Christopher. Judith Proctor baptized Christopher on December 9th 2007.

I Care About St. Paul's Because In December 2008, Meade assumed the leadership role on the building/grounds of St. Paul's. Since then, Meade has had weekly interaction with the church staff, the Rector, the Vicar, and/or Junior Warden and has personally resolved or had leadership roles in nearly all facilities related issues, problems, management, planning, budgeting, and construction.

I wish to see St. Paul's remain a warm, welcoming and spiritually challenging parish.
